§ S.24 In case of an emergency, extraordinary Joint Council meetings can be summoned by the Board, FRR or the Joint Council's Executive Committee with a day's notice given that every member of the Joint Council receives a message about the meeting with the agenda before the deadline as much as it is possible. Moreover, every ordinary member of the Joint Council can summon an extraordinary Joint Council, as long as 2/3 of all ordinary Joint Council members support it in writing.

§ S.25 An elected member of the Joint Council can hand their right to vote over to another person from the same student council for one meeting, given that FRFU was notified in writing. In case an ordinary Joint Council member is not present, the given student council's alternate member can take over their right to vote without the power of attorney. The right to vote cannot be transferred during a meeting that has already begun.

§ S.26 All councils, committees and the Board submit a written report at least once a year, which summarises and assesses the work of the past year. The report must also provide a discussion of the coming year's work. All reports must be considered at the final Joint Council meeting, for which they must therefore be available.

S.g Meetings in the student councils

§ S.27 The student councils hold meetings continuously as needed, although at least 6 times per year including the constitutional meeting.

§ S.28 Ordinary meetings in the student councils are summoned in writing with the agenda given to the council's members on the website of the association, as long as it is visible for all students on the relevant study programmes and that everyone has an easy and effortless access to it at least 5 days prior to the meeting.

§ S.29 Extraordinary meetings of the study councils may be required to be convened by 1/4 of the council. Thereafter, the rules for ordinary meetings are convened in § S.28.

§ S.30 The right to vote in the student council is personal and cannot be transferred to others.

S.h Meetings in general

§ S.31 The vote to right is executed by the present members. Nobody can have more than one vote.

§ S.32 All PF bodies must, during the discussion of individual issues of a particularly confidential nature (eg. personal matters, financial dispositions, election tactical issues), close the meeting temporarily, if at least 2 ordinary members wish so. The councils may also decide that an entire meeting is closed. Non ordinary members who interfere with their work by their conduct may be expelled upon prior notice.

Stk. 2. When a meeting is closed, the people that are not ordinary members of the council or cf. § S.38 have has a special right to participate in the meeting are expelled. The content of the closed points must be confidential and may only be available to people that had a right to be present during the closed parts. The council can let other people stay in the meeting during the closed part as long as it's a unanimous decision of the members. The same procedure can also be used to give access to the content of closed items.

§ S.33 At meetings of the fixed PF bodies, a conductor is elected. If lack of confidence is expressed to the conductor, this is put to the vote, and the conductor can be overthrown by a simple majority. The Joint Council may set requirements for procedures for conducting meetings of the Joint Council, study council and other meetings of the Polyteknisk Forening.

- § S.34 At meetings of the fixed PF bodies, a keeper of minutes is elected. The minutes must always be archived accordingly to Guidelines for minutes. The minutes are sent out to the members of a given body at latest 3 weeks after the meeting and are available for approval on the next meeting.
- § S.35 An assembly has a quorum only when at least 1/3 of its members eligible to vote are present, although it must be at least 7 members or all members. In case the assembly does not have a quorum, a new meeting with the same agenda can be summoned with at least 5 days notice. That assembly will then have quorum no matter the amount of participants.
- § S.36 Voting takes place by show of hands or, if 2 members eligible to vote wish so, anonymously. Unless otherwise stated, these are decided by a simple majority. In the event of a tie, the proposal submitted shall lapse. In the event of a tie for the election of persons, the chairperson draws lots.
- § S.37 At each meeting, any committees, subgroups, representatives, board and others report their work since the last meeting.
- § S.38 Members of the Board and FRR are allowed to participate in all meetings in the association. However, this is not valid for the FRR meetings and Board meetings.
- Stk. 2.* People not covered by stk. 1 or an ordinary member of a given council can be expelled from a meeting if their behaviour disturbs the meeting. This is regardless to any other right the person has to be present during the meeting. The expulsion needs to be voted by 2/3 of the present members eligible to vote.

S.i Economy

- § S.39 The financial year of the association runs from the 1st of June to the 31st of May. FRR draws up a budget for the year and presents it to approval of the Joint Council before the end of June during the given financial year.
- § S.40 Annual accounting must be approved by the Joint Council before the 1st of December of the following financial year. The FRR ensures that the overall annual accounting are sent to the Joint Council at least one week before the Joint Council meeting, where this is to be discussed. At the same time as sending out to the members of the Joint Council, FRR ensures that the accounting for student policy activities, social activities and the Student House are presented at the PF secretariat.
- § S.41 Critical audit's report should be taken up on the same Joint Council meeting as the annual accounting is presented, see § S.40.

S.j The club committee

- § S.42 The club committee is the advisory body regarding clubs under PF. The club committee makes recommendations to the current Board about the allocation/removal of facilities, establishment/closure of clubs, as well as the daily guidelines for the clubs. The club committee is contacted in case a club has questions, while the final decisions are made by the current Board of Polyteknisk Forening. The club committee is responsible for holding at least one common event for the clubs in preparation for the promotion of the clubs to the students at DTU.
- § S.43 The club committee consists of:

- Two representatives from the Board of PF, out of which one is the designated chairperson.
- One member of the Joint Council nominated by the Joint Council.
- One member from every club in the association.

§ S.44 The club committee is approved by the Joint Council on the constitutional Joint Council meeting.

§ S.45 The meetings of the club committee are summoned by the chairperson of the club committee. All members can demand items put on the agenda. A meeting must be summoned as long as one member demands it. There must be held at least 4 meetings each year. The constitutional club committee meeting must be held at the latest a month after the Joint Council has approved the club committee.

§ S.46 Meeting summons for a club committee meeting has be sent out in writing to the members and on the website of the association, at the latest 5 days prior to the meeting together with the agenda.

§ S.47 The chairperson of the club committee has an obligation to collect nominations from the clubs about the representation in the club committee before the constitutional Joint Council meeting. Every club that is approved as a club under Polyteknisk Forening, has to give one nomination of one person. This person through the nomination becomes the club committee's representative in the club and is thereby responsible for making the club aware of the club committee's decisions.

§ S.48 Approved clubs are governed by the club committee.

Part II

Principles

A Rules of procedure for The Joint Council

A.a Frequency of meetings and summons

Minimum 8 ordinary Joint Council meetings are held during the calendar year. A meeting calendar, containing the distribution of food, cake, and cleaning chores, is approved by the Joint Council. For the spring semester, the calendar is approved at the constitutional meeting. For the autumn semester, the calendar is approved at the last meeting in the spring semester. If a council is unable to take on the specified chore, the council is responsible for ensuring that others take on the chore in question. The Joint Council's Executive Committee (FRFU) is responsible for sending out a notice convening a Joint Council meeting, where you can sign up for the food served at the meeting. No later than 10 days before ordinary meetings, the FRFU sends out a notice convening the meeting and containing an agenda, as well as any open appendices. Motions for the agenda and appendices must therefore be received by the FRFU so that the committee can meet this deadline. No later than three days before ordinary meetings, the FRFU sends out the final agenda as well as open appendices. The FRFU must make sure that notices convening meetings and open appendices are available at the association's website. If there are confidential appendices for the meeting, these can be obtained at the PF Secretariat as soon as the notice convening the meeting has been sent out.

If items or appendices are not sent to the FRFU Executive Committee in due time, the FRFU may postpone the discussion of the item in question to a later meeting if it is found that the item should be discussed in the student councils. It is recommended that no one abuse the possibility of having motions decided by putting these items on the agenda three days before the meeting is to be held so that it is not possible to have the item discussed in the student councils.

A.b Meetings

Minutes are kept in accordance with the Guidelines for minutes adopted by the Joint Council. The agenda can be changed at the start of the meeting if minimum half of the voting members are present and two thirds of the voting members present vote for the change, see section § S.23 of the Laws and Statutes.

Voting rights may be assigned using the form sent out by the Joint Council's Executive Committee, which must be handed in at the table of the conductors before the start of the meeting or be sent in as a scanned version by email. If a notice of absence is sent for a meeting, this must be done by replying to the email sent by FRFU.

FRFU nominates conductor(s) of the keeper(s) of the minutes, who are elected by the Joint Council at the start of the meeting. The conductor(s) of the meeting decide(s) who has the right to speak. The Joint Council may elect another conductor of the meeting or another keeper of the minutes at any given time during the meeting if a majority of the Joint Council requests this. The FRFU manages a list of speakers, which can be closed by the conductor of the meeting at prior notice. The list of speakers is subsequently closed and will only be reopened when the conductor(s) of the meeting announce(s) this.

The conductor(s) of the meeting ensure(s) that breaks are taken at suitable intervals during the meeting. Some breaks will be used for further discussion of items, so-called buzzing breaks. During buzzing breaks, the meeting participants generally do not leave the meeting room. The conductor(s) of the meeting may decide to hold a timeout in which the meeting participants may leave the room and discuss items. A timeout may also be held if it is demanded by minimum two Joint Council members.

If a meeting participant leaves the room during the actual meeting, the participant must inform the keeper(s) of the minutes thereof as well as of his or her return to the meeting.

A.c Language of the meetings

The Joint Council meetings are initially held in English, with the option to change to Danish if necessary.

The summons are sent out in English and the same applies for other practical information sent out by FRFU to The Joint Council.

By default appendices are written in English. Appendices for The Joint Council must exist in English in their entire length. A Danish version or summary must also be sent out. For changes to the laws, statutes, principles, mandates, and guidelines as well as other standing documents where the controlling version is in Danish, the proposed change must exist in Danish. It is recommended that candidacies comply with the rules for other appendices for The Joint Council in regards to language, but it is not required. If an existing document is sent to The Joint Council it can be done so in its original language.

By default English is the spoken language at Joint Council meetings. However, any member of The Joint Council has the right to express themselves in Danish. This should be limited to situations where the member finds it difficult to express themselves in English. If references and proposals to specific formulations that exists in Danish can cause confusions in English, they should instead be made in Danish. An extra effort should be made to ensure non-danish speaking participants can still keep up if something is expressed in Danish.

The minutes are always in the spoken language.

A.d Mandates and voting procedures

A mandate is granted by the student councils to their Joint Council members. A mandate must be a reasonable negotiating mandate and should not be 100 % rigid.

Items are usually dealt with as open items. If at least two voting members wish so, the item must be dealt with as confidential, see section § S.32 of the Laws and Statutes.

Votes are usually an open procedure by a show of hands. If at least two voting members wish so, a written ballot must be held, see section § S.36 of the Laws and Statutes. In connection with proposed amendments, the most radical motion will be put to the vote first. If this motion is rejected, the next motion is put to the vote and so on. If all motions are rejected, no changes will be made. In the event of a parity of votes, the proposed amendment is rejected. In connection with election of persons, voting is done with one vote per position to be filled. The persons who receive the highest number of votes are then elected. In the event of a parity of votes, the conductor of the meeting will draw lots, see section § S.36. The conductor of the meeting may choose to use another voting procedure if this is more expedient.

B Principles for consideration of proposed amendments to Bylaws and Regulations

Making a proposal

All students at DTU have a right to make proposals to change the associations Bylaws and Regulations.

Proposals voted on by the Joint Council, are made through the Law Committee. Proposals to sections delegated by the Joint Council, are made through that respective committee. (See section B.b; Delegated Editing Competencies)

The Law Committee follows the process outlined in section B.a

B.a Standard process for proposed amendments to the Bylaws and Regulations

First reading

The Law Committee shall in cooperation with the proposer create an appendix with the proposed changes for the purpose of sending it for consultation in the student councils. The purpose is to process them to a point where to intention is clear and unambiguous.

Consultation in councils and committees

Proposals shall be sent for consultation in the student councils, and relevant committees. The Law Committee is responsible for making these available for the councils. Here all members of the association has a change to influence the proposal. It is the chairperson of each councils responsibility to give its members the opportunity to gain insight and influence on the changes. It is likewise their responsibility to collect and send the comments from the council to the Law Committee. It is expected that what is sent to the Law Committee is a gathering of the councils opinions and not just a section of minutes.

Second reading

The Law Committee shall in cooperation with the proposers create an appendix with to proposal for the purpose of sending it for approval in the Joint Council. Here in should be implemented input from the consultation, and the Law Committee should communicate with the councils that have given comments to make sure the implementations fits their ideas. The purpose is to process it to a point where it can be written directly in to the Bylaws and Rules.

The Law Committee shall create a proposal that is of the highest possible quality, within the frame of the original proposal. The Law Committee can submit conflicting proposals that FR can chose between, either as full proposals, or as elements in a bigger proposal. This should be done where there are multiple options that are distinct in principle that should be discussed in FR. The Law Committee shall ensure to there is sent out arguments for all proposals, and counter arguments where relevant. This should be able to form a enlightened foundation for a discussion in student councils and FR.

Submission for approval

Proposals shall be submitted for approval to the Joint Council. The Law Committee is responsible for submitting these in time to FRFU, cf. Rules of procedure for the Joint Council, so that they can be sent with the summons to the Joint Council, and thereby also to the student councils.

The Joint Council shall as a rule only consider if the proposal can be approved or rejected, without considering amendments to the proposal. It is expected that these are dealt with be the Law Committee trough the consultation process.

If the proposal is approved, it is written into Bylaws and Regulations by the Law Committee. If it is rejected, it can be sent back for a second reading in the Law Committee. Here the Law Committee should look critically at whether to submit it to the Joint Council again.

B.b Delegated Editing Competencies

The Joint Council can delegate the competences to edit parts of the principles and guidelines for Polyteknisk Forening.

The committees can choose by themselves, which process they use to make amendments to their section. It is expected that the committee as a minimum consult with the relevant parts of PF and students at DTU, who will be affected by the amendment.

When a committee has made changes to a section, then they must send it for a written orientation to the Joint Council at the next ordinary Joint Council meeting. The orientation must be sent out with the first summons of the Joint Council Meeting.

Any member of the Joint Council can make a protest to an amendment which had been set to orientation, if there is written support from at least 1/3 of all Joint Council Members. Then the Joint Council must vote on the amendment, before the amendment can take effect.

The amendments will first take effect after the Joint Council meeting has been held.

Delegated sections

The committees have been given the competence to make changes to the following sections:

The Sociopolitical Committee

- Principle E; Principles for the Social sector in Polyteknisk Forening

The Academic Committee

- Principle C; Representation in controlling bodies

C Representation in controlling bodies

C.a Principles for election of a student representative to DTU's Board of Governors and for the student representative's work

DTU's management structure encourages that DTU students must elect a representative to DTU's Board of Governors each year. PF obviously wants a central person in the association to be elected to hold this position, as it is the most powerful position that a student can hold at DTU. This person should work within the framework of some principles that are, in the final analysis, decided by the Joint Council.

Required qualifications

As the work on DTU's Board of Governors is of a general nature, the nominated candidate must have in-depth knowledge of DTU's governing bodies and preferably some knowledge of educational policy in Denmark in general. The candidate is not required to have in-depth knowledge of all sectors in PF, but he or she must have sufficient knowledge of the individual sectors to know who to call and when to do so.

Our candidate must therefore have followed the work of the association fairly close for several years and know a broad selection of the association's views well. It is important in this context that the nominated candidate is prepared to attend relevant meetings with PF's Board, the Joint Council, the Political Group, and the Academic Committee as well as other relevant activities.

The candidate must also be a person who closely follows the developments in PF. The actual work on DTU's Board of Governors consists of attending four meetings a year, but, in addition, there is much work involved in keeping up to date on what is happening in the association and ensuring that the support base is informed and involved. Reporting back to Polyteknisk Forening is also a very important part of the work, so that the association is kept up to date on the work and activities on The Board of Governors. It is essential that the candidate maintains close contact with PF's Board, which binds the association politically. In short, the PF candidate's cooperative skills are very important, especially as many cases on DTU's Board of Governors entail various degrees of confidentiality. The candidate must obviously accept that they represent PF's views, and not their own, throughout the candidate's term of office on The Board of Governors. However, PF must respect that members of The Board of Governors have a legal and personal responsibility, which means that there are limits to how far they can go for PF. The PF representative must consequently be able to follow the mandate given. On a more personal note, it is necessary to have a person who has shown that they have political clout, and that they can bear to take the occasional 'beating' both in PF and on DTU's Board of Governors. The person must also be able to communicate a message clearly and distinctly and not feel sheepish about being a newcomer. Quick analytical skills regarding an assessment of future and long-term consequences of various motions are also important.

Other wishes for a student member of DTU's Board of Governors

In addition to the specified required qualifications, there are some other qualifications that it would be advantageous for a candidate for The Board of Governors to possess. It is an advantage to have knowledge of organisations in general, and some experience with board work could be practical. Finally, it would also be a plus if the person in question has knowledge of how things are done in other organisations. There are other universities around the world that are independent institutions and have a board of governors. It would be an advantage if our candidate knows something about the development at such universities. Finally, it would be really good if they actually had some contacts in such places.

Is it possible to sit concurrently on DTU's Board of Governors and PF's Board?

Seeing that a student member of DTU's Board of Governors probably often has to compromise in a negotiating situation to have just part of PF's position included in a decision, it will be rather unfortunate if the whole of PF is then subsequently blamed for the rest of PF failing to support a decision. It is therefore advisable that a person not sit concurrently on DTU's Board of Governors and PF's Board.

Financial aspects of membership of DTU's Board of Governors

The student member of DTU's Board of Governors is currently covered by an insurance policy for internal members so that they do not go financially bankrupt in the event that DTU enters into liquidation or similar insolvency proceedings. However, it is uncertain whether extra remuneration may subsequently accrue to the internal members of The Board of Governors. In such case, the student member of The Board of Governors is strongly advised not to accept this payment personally, as this could easily raise doubts about the reasons why the student is a member of The Board of Governors. For example, this extra money could go to social activities for DTU students, perhaps in the form of a grant to PF's The Student-social Foundation (Den Studentersociale Fond).

Rounding off

This presentation should provide a basis for our discussion of some principles for holding this very important office and for electing persons to it. We may have virtually impossible expectations of this person, but as the office is important to PF, highly challenging, and very solitary, it is a tall order.

C.b Polyteknisk Forening's expectations to our members of the governing bodies

This section deals with the expectations that PF has to the students who have been elected to DTU's governing bodies on PF lists.

The key expectation can be summarised as follows:

- The members must represent all members of PF and, in as far as possible, work for all DTU students.
- The members must maintain good contact with the central bodies and persons PF.
- The members can expect that The Board of PF ensures that they receive relevant information.
- The members can expect that upgrading seminars and policy-creating activities will be held in which they are expected to participate.

General expectations of the members

The expectations should not be regarded as constituting a checklist, which can be used to punish the candidates if they do not meet these expectations. On the other hand, it is expected that, prior to the candidates' nomination, they have been made aware of these expectations and have accepted them. PF is represented in many different bodies, and the expectations of the representatives will therefore vary at different levels. However, a number of general expectations are described in the following that are common to all members.

The members' task in the governing bodies is to work for all DTU students. This means that these representatives must keep in good contact with the relevant support base. Before each meeting, a preliminary meeting must be held or the items on the agenda must have been discussed in some other way. In addition, collaboration should be entered into with lecturers (scientific staff (VIPs)) and technical/administrative staff (TAPs) on matters of joint interest. In addition, the members must attend the body to which they have been elected. As a minimum, a notice of absence must be sent, but efforts should be made to contact the alternate, who has corresponding obligations. Finally, the members are expected to follow the policies of PF, formulated by either the student council, the Educational Policy Council, the Joint Council, or in this Catalogue of Principles. If a member does not know the policy in question or disagrees with the policy, he or she must take the initiative for having the item discussed in the relevant body. In cases in which PF does not have a formulated policy, the members must obviously use their common sense, but, where possible, they should bring the matter up in a relevant PF body.

Expectations to boards of studies members (ISN)

They are expected to attend their study board meetings, and each study board is expected to be represented by minimum one student at meetings of the Educational Policy Council. In department study boards in which several student councils have an interest, it is important that the positions and views are coordinated in advance. Such coordination must take into due consideration which student council will be most affected by the item to be discussed. It is important that the department study board members maintain contact with the Educational Policy Coordinator and the rest of The Board of PF. They must also keep in touch with relevant Head of Study and their support groups, such as study programme focus groups.

Expectations of the vicechairmen of the study board

The vicechairmen are expected to coordinate all students on the study boards, which entails a responsibility for ensuring that:

- the study board is represented at Educational Policy Council meetings
- preliminary meetings are held or views are coordinated before the department study board meeting
- they are the students' contact to the head of department and the rest of the department.

In addition to participating in meetings convened by the head of department, the students are also expected to perform fieldwork in order to participate in discussions of interest to the students. The vicechairmen are expected to meet with the head of department minimum twice per semester. The vicechairmen are also responsible for passing on comments and requests received from the students to the head of department and vice versa. The vicechairman is expected to familiarise themselves with the department's development goals and measures (UMV) and action plan. It is important in connection with the preparation of the UMV report that the students are proactive and seek influence themselves. This is, of course, a question of trust, but by showing interest in and commitment to the department's day-to-day activities, it is possible to be heard. It is important that the vicechairmen maintain contact with the Educational Policy Coordinator and the rest of The Board of PF.

Expectations of members of the Interdisciplinary Committees for the BSc and MSc programmes (CUU) and the BEng programmes (DUU)

Full participation in meetings on the Interdisciplinary Committees is expected as well as on any sub-committees set up. In addition, they are expected to participate in the Academic Committee's work, and minimum one member of each committee must attend Joint Council meetings

They are expected to maintain good contact with The Board of PF.

Expectations of members of the Academic Council (AR)

Members are expected to participate fully in meetings in the Academic Council as well as any sub-committees set up. In addition, they are expected to participate in the Academic Committee's work, and minimum one member of each committee must attend Joint Council meetings.

They are also expected to maintain good contact with the student members of DTU's Board of Governors and The Board of PF.

What demands can members make of Polyteknisk Forening as an organisation?

PF is to function as a knowledge and information base. The Board is responsible for ensuring that relevant information is passed on to the right person. PF supports its members if problems arise in connection with the pursuance of PF's policy. It is important that information is provided about what PF's policy is, to enable members to follow it. Members must consequently have been informed about the policy before taking up a position. It must always be possible to borrow a meeting room on the PF hallway. The hallway must likewise also be a good place to work, and there must be access to the necessary information, both during the day and in the evening. There must be a well-functioning secretariat, which can be used in connection with administrative functions. Two upgrading seminars and policy-creating activities must be held each year. These seminars must cater for all PF's members of governing bodies. The Board is responsible for ensuring that these events are widely advertised.

D The Business Sector

As of 14th of January 2021 the following business enterprises are controlled fully or partially by Polyteknisk Forening: Polyteknisk Forenings Studentersociale Fond, Polyteknisk Boghandel, S-Huset, Polyteknisk Forening's Secretariat, and IAESTE.

Traditionally, these companies are to a large extent self-governing. Formally the business sector is the responsibility of the Joint Council and the recommendations of FRR are guiding, but the Joint Council should always consider the importance of FRR's competencies and economical insight.

Polyteknisk Forening must as a whole ensure consolidation of the equity, such that the future economical possibilities of the association are not worsened.

FRR can dispose over budget changes under 50.000,-. Above this amount a revised budget must be presented to and approved by FR.

D.a Commercial sector

- Fees and user payment should be fixed under consideration for the economy of the association as well as under consideration to the students' economical conditions.
- Maximisation of profit is not against the purpose of the association, as long as the consideration of the students are prioritised.
- The leaders of Polyteknisk Forening's business ventures are responsible for the daily operation and to meet the association's demands to these. It is the responsibility of the Chief Financial Officer to keep in contact with the leaders.
- The Joint Council must be informed of handouts from Den Studentersociale Fond.

D.b The Secretariat

Polyteknisk Forening's service body provides a good service for the students and acts as relief the board and the volunteers of the association.

D.c Sponsorships

Polyteknisk Forening, its events, rooms, values, committees, as well as all derivatives thereof must not be sponsored by companies, persons, or organisations if:

- Sponsor competes with the association on one or more areas, it can be commercial or otherwise. Sponsor is controversial in such a way that its values cannot be combined with what Polyteknisk Forening stands for. This excludes e.g. cooperations of party political and religious character, since PF represents students of all beliefs.
- Sponsor requires or if the sponsorship will cause Polyteknisk Forening to not appear as sovereign organiser or holder of the sponsored event or the sponsored values.
- The sponsorship will impose secondary costs on the association.

If the above is complied with, the association will allow sponsorships. All sponsorships must be approved by the board. Remember to reply after receiving a sponsorship in order to maintain a good relationship with the companies.

D.d The FAKU fond

- The FAKU fund is a pool that can be applied for by PF members to fund initiatives that benefits one or more study lines.
- The amount granted is paid solely on presentations of receipts. If the full amount granted is not spend, the rest will be put stay in the pool to be applied by others.

D.e Logo policy

- All organs that prints/embosses materials by financial resources provided by Polyteknisk Forening must at the same time ensure that a PF-logo is printed/embossed on the medium.

E Principles for the Social sector in Polyteknisk Forening

This document presents Polyteknisk Forening's position on topics regarding the academic environment, housing, and SU. The principles are made and approved by the Sociopolitical Committee, who are responsible for the work in Polyteknisk Forening within these areas.

E.a Principles for the academic environment at DTU

Social activities

- PF must give the students the option of being socially engaged at DTU outside of teaching hours by offering various social activities.
- PF aims to conduct at least one sport event and one late summer party for the students every year.
- PF works to offer all newly started students a study start program that introduces both the academic and social environment at DTU.
- PF works to improve the recreational areas at DTU and to make them fully available to the students.

Learning environment

- Building 101 must be a center of student activity.
- All areas at DTU must seem open and welcoming.
- All students must have access to group rooms for use in connection with the education and with projects.
- Reading rooms and quiet workplaces must be available for the students, and must be accessible 24 hours a day.
- All students actively working on exam projects must have their own desk, which must be accessible 24 hours a day.
- The educators must respect the students and vice versa.
- Lockers must be available to the students.

- The students must have the option of purchasing a lunch of good quality at a reasonable price.
- The students must have the option of purchasing refreshments at DTU, for example in vending machines.

Working environment

- The working environment at DTU may not deteriorate or decrease in quality, but should be continuously improved.
- The ergonomic working environment at DTU may not cause occupational injuries to the students.
- The indoor environment and the lighting at DTU must live up to the existing AT-guidelines from Arbejdstilsynet for the indoor environment and lighting in educational environments.
- The work load for DTU students can not be expected to exceed 30 ECTS points pr. semester.
- The aim must be for the working environment of students to be in compliance with the Working Environment Act, and as a minimum to be in compliance with the Education Environment Act (Undervisningsmiljølovgivningen).
- Students who work in a laboratory or workshop, must go through a course on safety.

Use of IT

- There must be a wireless network connection accessible to all students at DTU, with full coverage all over campus.
- Power plugs must be available to students with a laptop in all working areas at DTU.
- Software that is necessary to the education must be made available to the students 24 hours a day.
- The aim must be for all auditoriums to have enough space on the tables for the use of a laptop in connection with lectures.

International students

- The international students must be offered a Buddy program.
- International students are welcome at DTU, but must not become such a dominating group that the Danish students are prioritised less.
- The aim must be that the international students have access to guidance regarding education, housing and working conditions on equal footing with the Danish students.

E.b Housing principles for Polyteknisk Forening

PF works for the following:

- There must be housing of a certain standard for all students at DTU.
- It must be possible for students to get housing close to DTU.
- Costs for student housing must be fair compared to a student's income.
- Students must be nominated for the housing according to their needs, including
 - Time spent on transport to the educational institution
 - Social conditions
 - Economic conditions
- There must be equal nomination for all students, regardless of gender and type of education.
- There must be the option for a good social environment at the student housing.
- New constructions must be future-proof in regards to, among other things:
 - Common facilities
 - Operation and maintenance
 - Technical improvements
- A maximum 10% of international students among the the residents at a dormitory.

With regards to housing for international students, PF works for the following:

- That DTU can offer housing for international students during the entirety of their stay at DTU.
- A permanent international dormitory must be created on DTU campus to ensure the best possible housing and social relations for the international students, close to their place of study.
- That the temporary dormitory Campus Village is closed down when a permanent international dormitory is opened.
- That full-degree students are prioritised for rooms which are reserved for international students at regular dormitories.
- That it becomes possible for both danish and international students to apply to live at an international dormitory.

F Principles for the best study start at DTU

F.a The Bachelor Study start for Engineering Students at DTU

Student mentors are in the following referred to as vectors.

This document contains the wishes and demands for PF's activities coordinated in coherence with the study start. The document is composed as a work document for FR, the board of PF and the students in the coordinating study start group so that there is a clear overview of responsibilities and work distribution.

The study start activities of Polyteknisk Forening is handled by a coordinating group that covers both the B.Sc.Eng and B.Eng.. The coordinating group is responsible for the study start of the B.Eng. students in both the winter and summer as well as the study start for the B.Sc.Eng students for the bachelor education in the summer.

The Coordinating Group

The coordinating group is formed as an activity committee under the Joint Council as the Coordinators of the Bachelor Study Start (KABS) after individual election of KABS for every study line by the Joint Council. The constitution of this committee is based upon a collective focus paper where the focus areas of the coordinating group are explained, for example how the rustrips are held, the period after the rustrip, and the education of the vectors etc. KABS has the responsibility of fulfilling these points to the best of their abilities.

It is of especially important character that KABS works long-term relative to the study start as a whole. It is expected that KABS keeps a close contact to the board of PF. KABS is responsible for the selection and education of the vectors, holding the rustrips, the period after the rustrips as well as initiating a collaboration with DTU concerning a possible tutor-programme, if it is relevant. The role of the coordinating group is superior and one from KABS can't be hired as a vector in the study start in question. During the period of employment the members of KABS holds meetings with the study programme- and crossteams respectfully with the purpose of arranging the study start. If a member of KABS participates in more than one of the vector meetings with the same team, during the period, they will be regarded as being linked to the team in question. The work of KABS is paid and after the pre-approval, the members of KABS must be presented with an employment contract. Immediately after the final approval of KABS they must sign their contract.

The Vectors and the study programme

The study programme-vector-team consists of vectors hired by the same study programme and the associated KABS. By study programme KABS it's understood that the member of KABS that's been chosen to take care of the study start for the study programme(s) in question. Vectors that has been hired as study programme vectors under the same study programme KABS works as a single study programme-vector-team.

A vector's task is to be a part of giving the new students the best possible start on their studies as well as working to support and integrate them socially and academically. Each vector is picked to take care of a team consisting of a group of new students the study programme they're hired for as well as following this group until the contract expires. It is encouraged that the vector keeps the contact to the newly started students during their second semester. If a vector participates in more than one of the weekly meetings with another vectors team, during the period, they will be regarded as being linked to the team in question, as their vector. The vector duties are paid and after the selection, the vectors must be presented with an employment contract. The work is paid at the end of the employment period according to the employment contract.

Education

Before the rustrips all vectors must go through upgrading courses, such as talking techniques, group dynamics, psychology, and conflict management. It is demanded that all vectors are educated in first aid. The education of vectors can take place both on DTU and outside of DTU. It is aimed for that the education in rustrip and social events happens on the educational trip. An educational trip is held for the summer start and one for the winter start with the purpose of giving the vectors a thorough knowledge for what is required for being a good vector. The educational trip spans across multiple days. In coherence with the annually educational trips it is a demand that the vectors and relevant KABS participates. KABS has the main responsibility for arranging the trips.

Rustrips

A crossteam is understood as the team that consists of vectors that arrange a given rustrip. With crossKABS it is understood as the member(s) of KABS that are a part of a cross-vector-team and are responsible for planning and is responsible for holding the rustrip.

It is the responsibility of KABS that a number of rustrips are held that matches the number of newly starting students on DTU. The rustrips are intended to be on the magnitude of 60 to 100 participants and have a length of 3 to 4 nights. There must also be held at least one weekend trip as an offer in the weekend before the summer rustrips. On the rustrip itself there is the possibility of dividing the students from one study programme so interdisciplinary networking between the students can be obtained on the rustrip. It is also the responsibility of KABS to ensure newly started students are shown around DTU, receives relevant information on the rustrip and that the rustrips have an academic character. This is done by inviting different external speakers (The board of PF, IDA, President of DTU/CEO/Dean etc.) to hold a presentation during the rustrip week (optionally on DTU). It is intended that visits doesn't have a grade of advertisements for commercial products towards the students. It is also the responsibility of KABS to make sure that the rules of PF for the cabin trips and Danish law is complied with during the trip. This includes rules about nudity, sobriety, offensive/violent behaviour and the intake of illegal drugs. In that regard all crossteams work out an ethical and moral set of rules where they explain their ideas for executing a rustrip responsibly.

Is is important that all vectors have an understanding that the rustrips are for the new students. PF wishes that there is room for all new students on DTU's rustrips, including students that are interested in other social relations regarding the start of a new study. At every event where alcohol is served there must also be served an alcohol free alternative. It is a wish that there is no difference in the way that vectors on B.Sc.Eng and B.Eng. execute the rustrips. It is the thought that the study start of both educations are mixed so that an interdisciplinary network is accomplished between the individual study programmes. This is done to secure that all rustrips have a somewhat uniform character with regard to the new students but also with regard to the vectors. It is the responsibility of KABS to find a fitting amount (2-3 pr. 60 students) of ordinary PF members to assist on the rustrips with regard to cooking. The kitchen team is not paid but they must follow the same guidelines that are applicable for the rustrip. KABS has the responsibility of setting guidelines so the kitchen team have an understanding of what is expected of them beforehand.

The period after the rustrips

The newly started students that have not participated on the rustrips must afterwards be able to participate in the vector's group as equals with the ones that have participated. After the rustrips, meetings are held with the russes and have the purpose of creating cohesion and creating a safe and social setting. Moreover the vectors must convey relevant information about the study and answer any possible questions.

It is a demand that the vectors must offer weekly meetings and arrange minimum two social events for the new students, within their employment period, where at least one of them does not encourage the consumption of alcohol. It is also expected that the vectors offer their russes a meeting during the second semester of the russes. It is also the responsibility of the vector to arrange social events for all the newly started students that have been on the rustrip so that the interdisciplinary network from the rustrip are kept. At every event where alcohol is served there must also be an alcohol free alternative. New students that belong to the caketeam that did not go on the rustrip in question should also be invited to these. Moreover it is also a demand that an academic event must be held for the study programme where the vectors must strive to have a cooperation with lecturers, the head of studies or student council where they present the options of courses in general and courses on the following semesters. Moreover the academic event can consist of one or more relevant company visits. It is the responsibility of KABS to make sure that the academic and social events are held to satisfaction. KABS is responsible for the contact with involved institutes and head of studies and can enter an agreement with these for tutor programmes.

Breach of the Guidelines

The guidelines for the bachelor study start are written to protect the russes and any breach of the guidelines must be taken seriously. Therefore at the start of their period, KABS must hold a theme meeting where the guidelines are examined and different scenarios are discussed. The purpose of this meeting is to form a uniform expectation for how these cases are handled. This should be done in cooperation with members of FR or KABSseueu (a committee described in the next section).

Before getting final approval in FR, KABS must elect two trustKABS that must sign a separate confidentiality agreement as soon as possible after the election has been held. It is the responsibility of trustKABS's to act as a "tilledsrepræsentant"¹ for the studystart and must be available for vectors and KABS if there are sensitive cases that need an external KABS' point of view.

If a vector breaches the guidelines during their period, the vector in question is called in for a meeting with at least one member of the board, one trustKABS, and optionally one self-chosen lay-representative, and if possible their crossKABS, studylineKABS, or both. The vector in question can choose to disallow a KABS' presence at the meeting. At this meeting an attempt must be made view the case in question from all sides. Afterwards the relevant KABS and trustKABS discuss the case with the Chief Financial Officer, and together they ensure that everything is handled fairly, and decide that the consequences should be. The final decision falls to the chief financial officer, possibly in cooperation with the board, after assessment by the Chief Financial Officer.

If the vector's employment ceases it is important that the vector's rusteam is taken care of, so they aren't left without a mentor. Here it's recommended that the russes have some knowledge of the person beforehand.

If a KABS breaches the guidelines this person must attend a meeting with the Chief Financial Officer from the board, optionally with a trustKABS, and optimally with one self-elected lay-representative. There must be at least two other people attending, other than the KABS in question and the self-elected lay-representative. Afterwards the Chief Financial Officer makes a decision about the consequences of the breach, optionally in collaboration with the board, after assessment from the Chief Financial Officer.

¹A Danish term, that translates directly to a "trust representative", for a person elected into a position of trust, typically at a workplace. Other workers (or KABS, vectors and russes in this case), can go to them with problems they may not wish to discuss directly with their boss/manager/colleagues (KABS/vector/rus in this case), such as problems of a personal nature. Additionally a trust representative can be asked to act as companions/lay-representatives in high-stress meetings and situations, to act as moral support for and act in the best interest of the person they are accompanying.

Evaluation and Hand Over

It is the responsibility of KABS to gather evaluations of the rustrips and the entire studystart period from the new students. The evaluations are processed in KABS and then collected into a detailed handover to the subsequent group of KABS. The report back to the rest of PF concerning the results from the evaluation of the educational trip, rustrips and following periods, must happen in writing through the annual report.

A Subject Committee Evaluation Committee (KABSeueu) is formed by the Joint Council in October.

F.b Master- and exchange student study start for engineer students at DTU

In this document are the principles of Polyteknisk Forening master- and exchange student study start for engineer students at DTU presented. This is a work plan for FR, Board of PF and the coordinates of the master- and exchange student study start, which describes the wishes and demands there are for the coordinators to complete the master- and exchange student study start.

All activities in regards to the Introduction Week happens in cooperation with Office for Study Programmes and Student Affairs (AUS) at DTU and especially with the Introduction Coordinator from AUS. The Introduction Coordinator is the person from AUS who is responsible for the execution of the Introduction Week.

During a year, there will be two coordinating groups. The first group works from September till February and the second group works from February till September. The coordinating groups ensures there is planned a study start for master- and exchange students, who are admitted in September and February.

In addition, there are two groups of Buddies during a year, where the first group of Buddies work from November till June and the second group from April till January.

The coordinating group PF Master Students

The coordinating group is formed as an activity committee under the Joint Council as PF Master Students and the members of this group is called PF Master Student Coordinators (PF MSC).

Constitution of the committee happens after individual interviews with the applicants. The committee is pre-approved by the board with final approval by the Joint Council on the first-coming FR meeting. The interview can, as an example, be held by one from the board of PF together with a former PF MSC and the Introduction Coordinator from AUS. The applicant is able to, as an example, account for one's thoughts of one's vision on an international community, on how social integration can be achieved crosswise of Danish and international students and how one want to prepare the Buddies to achieve their duties as ambassadors for the study start.

PF MSC is expected to have close contact to the board of Polyteknisk Forening. PF MSC is responsible for choosing and upgrading Buddies. Upgrading of Buddies happens in cooperation with an Introduction Coordinator from AUS. As PF MSC has a leading role in Introduction Week, one cannot become PF MSC and Buddy in the same study start.

The work as PF MSC is paid and after the election, the members of PF Master Students must be presented with a hiring contract. The work is paid for at the end of their period according to the contract.

Buddies

The tasks of a buddy includes giving the new students the best possible start at DTU and to work for supporting and including them socially. Every Buddy is chosen to maintain a team of about 10 newly started students. They follow this team through Introduction Week and meet them at least once a month in the following semester (including the 3-week period). The work as a Buddy is paid and after the choosing of Buddies, they must be presented for a contract. The work is paid for at the end of their contract according to the contract.

Education

Both PF MSC and Buddies undergoes upgrading before the Introduction Week. The Introduction Coordinator from AUS holds the upgrading for PF MSC, which, as an example, can include speech techniques and cultural understanding. It is demanded that PF MSC participates in this upgrading. Buddies receives upgrading on two educational days, which e.g. can be held in a weekend.

The upgrading is arranged by PF MSC and the Introduction Coordinator from AUS jointly. The upgrading can, among other things include speech techniques, group dynamics, cultural understanding and handling of conflicts. It is the purpose of the educational days that Buddies obtains knowledge of what it takes to create a good social integration of international and danish students, together with a social community across study programmes and nationalities. It is demanded that Buddies participates in both these educational days.

The study start programme

The programme explained in the following happens twice a year, as there are Introduction Weeks during both the summer and winter.

The semester up to Introduction Week

PF MSC is responsible for events for master- and exchange students in the semester up to the Introduction Week, they are responsible for. It is demanded that PF MSC holds at least one social or academic event where all new master- and exchange students are invited. Before Introduction Week, the PF MSC finds organisers for a master cabin trip, which is planned for after the Introduction Week.

Introduction Week

It is PF MSC in cooperation with the Introduction Coordinator from AUS, who has the responsibility to plan the Introduction Week. Introduction Week spans over 5 days and is for allowing new students to get acquainted with each other, while getting insight in the student life on DTU. During the Introduction week, there are offered both social and academic activities. External speakers can be invited (as an example, board of PF, IDA, principal/director/dean etc.).

It is aimed for that speakers does not have a character of advertisement for commercial products. Activities during the week is planned in a matter which danish master students from DTU, Danish master students from the rest of Denmark, international master students, and exchange students gets a good study start. By default the Buddies facilitates the different activities during the week, while PF MSC is responsible for the overall overview and delegation of tasks.

Buddy groups are assembled with master students and exchange students, in a matter so the programme can be directed towards master students and other parts of the programme can be directed towards exchange students. Danish and international master students is distributed on the master Buddy groups, so no groups are only made up of only danish students or international students.

The semester after the Introduction Week

After the Introduction Week, the Buddies holds meetings with the newly started students, which has the purpose of creating cohesion and safe social settings. It is demanded that Buddies meets with their group at least once a month from when the Introduction Week is ended and until the following semester is over (including the 3-week period).

It is desired that a Buddy meets one's group of newly started students more often if possible. A Buddy must convey relevant information of the student life on DTU and answer any questions. In addition, they must have a overview over activities and offers which PF and DTU offers, there could have any relevance for the newly started students (as an example, the student guidance, student councils, events from S-Huset).

Buddies should strive upon participating in events planned by PF MSC during the semester and bring their newly started students to the events.

Breach of guidelines

The guidelines for the master- and exchange student study start is written down in the section Guidelines in New in FR to ensure all master- and exchange students gets a good introduction to DTU and the student environment.

If a buddy during one's period breaches the guidelines, the Buddy is summoned for an interview, where as an example there can be representatives from the board of PF and representatives from PF MSC and possibly a self-elected lay representative.

In case a Buddy's terms of employment ends, there will be taken care of this person's Buddy-group, so they are not without a Buddy or any contact to the study start. If a PF MSC breaches the guidelines, this persons must have an interview with an appropriate amount from the board of PF and possibly the Introduction Coordinator from AUS, and possibly a self-elected lay representative. Afterwards the board of PF must take a decision which consequences the breach implies.

Evaluation and hand-over

PF MSC is responsible for obtaining evaluation of the Introduction Week and the overall study start programme from the newly started students. The evaluation is treated by PF MSC and comprehended in a detailed hand-over to the following committee. Feedback to the rest of PF of the results of the evaluation related to the educational days, Introduction Week and the rest of the study start programme happens through the annual report of PF.

G Principles for S-Huset

S-Huset must through its operation and events work for the joy and benefit of all students at DTU.

The operation of S-Huset

- The President of S-Huset and the manager of S-Huset cooperate to handle the daily operation of Studenterhuset within the set guidelines from the Joint Council and within the limits of PF's budget. This comprises the prioritisation of events and the distribution of rooms, as well as ensuring that the rules of order are abided by and determining sanctions to persons who violate the rules of order.

- The manager of S-Huset has the final say in all matters regarding the serving of refreshments.
- The manager of S-Huset in cooperation with the board, can suspend persons from the S-Huset if they have acted wrongly.

The facilities of S-Huset

- Facilities can be made available to PF-clubs, or alternatively to other student groups, by the management of S-Huset.
- The access to club facilities is closed on the day of Joints and other big events.
- Bringing own refreshments into the rooms of S-Huset during regular opening hours is not allowed.
- The President of S-Huset and the manager of S-Huset can make exceptions.
- S-Huset's facilities can be made available to students at DTU outside of regular opening hours. Kælderbaren, Pejsestuen, Oticonsalen and Kaffestuen can only be rented with bartenders from S-Huset. Læsesalen can be provided for events without the use of bartenders from S-Huset. More specific rules for the facilities are made by the President of S-Huset in cooperation with the manager of S-Huset.

H Principles for clubs in PF

1. In Polyteknisk Forening it has been decided to only have clubs with social content or hobbies. If there is any doubt about content or purpose, this is brought to the management of clubs.

In addition, the club committee can discuss whether or not a club must be withdrawn of their room facilities. This processing happens on the background of a review of the president of the club committee, cf. item 5 and the following of every club:
 - Accounting
 - Annual report with review of the level of activity
 - List of members
 - Minute(s) from general assemblies
7. The president of the club committee delivers a written review to the Joint Council after the status meeting(s)
8. Clubs have the obligation to nominate a representative to the club committee. Temporary exemption can be given by the president of the club committee. The president of the club committee must inform the Joint Council if this exemption is given.

There are situations though, where it is not necessary to have an appendix. In case of doubt one can contact FRFU to see if it is necessary in a certain case.

- An appendix should always contain: A date, the author(s), page number and an appendix number which is given by FRFU.
- All abbreviations should be written in full at least once. With the use of lesser known abbreviations, an explanation may be a good idea.
- When writing an appendix that should be processed in the Student Councils, one should keep in mind that the people who are processing this, typically have less experience than the Joint Council members. Therefore everything should be explained thoroughly and without an unnecessary use of abbreviations.
- Discussion points and amendments should include an introductory text which explains the reasoning and motivation for the discussion or the amendment.
- Appendices that concern the existing text should be constructed in a way that makes it clear what is getting changed. This can be done for instance by adding the old piece of text above the new, preferably with different typography.
- When writing a discussion point it can be a good idea to hear the point of view of all stakeholders so the point can include a discussion of pros and cons to the suggestion.
- When writing an appendix, one can contact FRFU to check whether or not the appendix is of a satisfactory quality.

B Guidelines for minutes

- The Chief Financial Officer must be consulted before potential cooperation partners are contacted. Moreover the final agreement must be approved by the Chief Financial Officer.
- All cooperations must comply with the laws, statutes, and principles of PF.
